DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. This application does not contain an abstract of the disclosure as required by 37 CFR 1.72(b). An abstract on a separate sheet is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear if “a housing” in claim 8 is the same with the housing (2) in claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2, 4, 5 (as broadly claimed) and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Etzel (EP 510345).

Regarding claims 1 and 8, Etzel teaches a loudspeaker that includes a housing (12) with a front side and a rear side (figures 1-2), a diaphragm (13) and an actuator (11) as claimed. Etzel further shows the housing (12) extends around an axis and is provided with a conical forepart widening towards the front side, a base part extending towards the rear side and an intermediate housing part including the transition areas as claimed (20, 21 figures 1-2).

Regarding claim 2, as broadly claimed, the intermediate housing part at the bending joint (20) between the forepart and the rear part is substantially cylindrical shape.

Regarding claim 4, as broadly claimed, the transitional areas (21) are weaker than the other portions of the housing (figure 1).

Regarding claim 5, as broadly claimed, it appears that the forepart (19) of the housing (12) has angle of inclination as claimed (figures 1, 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Etzel (EP 510345).

Regarding claim 5, as interpreted in a different manner, Etzel does not specifically disclose the angle inclination of the forepart of the housing as claimed. However, Etzel does estimate an angle inclination of the forepart of the housing relative to the axis of the speaker housing.

Art Unit: 2615

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide any range for the angle inclination such as an angle of at least 30 degrees for better connecting with the predetermined rupture or bending joint of the forepart the Etzel speaker housing.

Regarding claims 6-7, Etzel shows the intermediate part housing (20, 21) that has a length dimension and a thickness dimension. However, Etzel does not specifically disclose the length dimension and thickness dimension as claimed in claims 6-7.

However, Etzel does not restrict to any range for the dimensions of the intermediate part housing; it therefore would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide any range for the dimensions of the intermediate part housing of Etzel such as the length dimension of at least 3mm and the thickness of 0.5 mm for better providing a predetermined rupture or bending joint in the speaker housing.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Mitobe (U.S. patent 5,111,510) teaches a speaker frame that comprises first and second frame pieces.
